Just to update you, we announced the text today. It will appear in the Federal Register this week as well. The public hearing for 3/29 most likely will be in Ann Arbor, MI and if there's a last minute problem with that likely simply here in D.C. We'll announce the time and place in the next couple of days.

Got it. So we sent the proposal to OMB Monday, and Andrew met with Neomi about it today regarding its review there. We think we'll have it back from OMB and be able to propose it next week, and the public hearing will be ASAP thereafter for sure. Message heard loud and clear here. Thanks for letting us know.

Hi there,

I wanted to pass along that the President spoke to Senator Ernst on the phone today. He asked her how E15 was going and she must have responded that implementation was slower than expected. He told me to relay to you that he wants the public hearing to occur ASAP. I told him EPA believes the E15 rules will be implemented in time for the driving season. Anyway, just wanted to close the loop and relay the message.

Thanks so much,
 Shahira
